WIRETAPPING AND OTHER ELECTRONIC SURVEILLANCE: Law and Procedure Robert W. Hubbard, Mabel Lai and Daniel Sheppard Release No. 3, July 2022

Publisher's Special Release Note 2021

The pages in this work were reissued in August 2021 and updated to reflect that date in the release line. Please note that we did not review the content on every page of this work in the August 2021 release. We will continue to review and update the content according to the work's publication schedule. This will ensure that subscribers are reading commentary that incorporates developments in the law as soon as possible after they have happened or as the author deems them significant.

Changes to chapter and heading numbering may have occurred. Please refer to the Correlation Table in the front matter if you wish to confirm references.

What’s New in this Update:

This release features a complete revision of Chapter 17 and updates to the Index.

Highlights:

These updates include a comprehensive revision of Chapter 17 (formerly titled “Electronic Surveillance under the National Defence Act”, now titled “Electronic Surveillance by the Communications Security Establishment”), including summaries and comments about the following:

- A history of the Communications Security Establishment (“CSE”).
- An overview of the 2019 amendments, repealing Part V.1 of the National Defence Act and replacing it with the Communications Security Establishment Act, S.C. 2019, c. 13, s. 76.
- A discussion of the CSE’s mandates.
- A thorough review of the application process for obtaining authorizations for engaging in activities, including electronic surveillance.
- A review of the role of the newly created Intelligence Commissioner of Canada and the National Security and Intelligence Review Agency.
- An analysis of CSE activities gleaned from unclassified or publicly available reports.
- A discussion of the constitutional issues raised by the CSE’s activities and legislative framework.

ProView Developments

Your ProView edition of this product now has a new, modified layout:

- The opening page is now the title page of the book as you would see in the print work
- As with the print product, the front matter is in a different order than previously displayed
- The Table of Cases and Index are now in PDF with no searching and linking
- The Table of Contents now has internal links to every chapter and section of the book within ProView
- Images are generally greyscale and size is now adjustable

- Footnote text only appears in Proview generated PDFs of entire sections and pages
